Cover Art

The painting on the bulletin cover, The Calling of the Sts. Peter and Andrew, is by the artist Caravaggio and was done in the year 1602. It is oil on canvas. This is the artist's interpretation of the event. He paints a beardless Jesus with the older apostles. The most prominent figure on the left is thought to be St. Peter. The painting is part of the Royal Collection, Hampton Court, East Molesey.

January 25th marks the end of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity as well as the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul. In recognition of every Christian's need for ongoing conversion and Christ's call to be united in spirit, Our Lady of Peace will host a special evening of prayer, presentation, private reflection, and process in the group. The evening will offer the opportunity for participants to thoughtfully and prayerfully consider the ways in which each of us as individuals might become more like Jesus in our interactions with family, neighbors, colleagues, and within our own parish. Special focus will be given to active listening, communication, and conflict resolution skills. The evening will open with a pot luck supper at 6 p.m., and conclude no later than 9 p.m. Facilitators will be friends of Our Lady of Peace: Deacon Chris Barrett of Resurrection, Moneta, and his wife Anne Gibbons, Associate Chaplain at Lynchburg College. All adults are encouraged to attend.

Remembering 30 Years

Father Bob Dylan served Our Lady of Peace from 1996-2002. At that time nothing was nailed to the floor in the sanctuary. There was some very creative movement of altar furniture which allowed for some creative celebrations of the Eucharist. With the community's involvement, some beautiful stained glass windows were put into the church.
