A Pastoral Moment With Fr. Jim

This week we celebrate All Saints and All Souls. There are heartfelt reasons for both.

My brother, Steve, passed away in 2017 and my sister, Mary, in 2024. Mom passed in 2019. And many more we remember in your family and mine who journeyed with us. But somehow we inherit some of the good things of who who are deceased. They are passed on to us. My brother Steve was a great story teller and could “hold court” for hours with people laughing and being intensely interested in what he had to say. Our Uncle Joe Gallagher who had died several years earlier was the same way. He had Captain Gallagher’s spiritual DNA.

Recipes are passed down in families even though they had never been written down. The spiritual DNA of great cooking and delicious foods seem to be a common occurrence.

Being patient and listening as well as being a good caregiver runs in a family I knew in Clarksville, Virginia. The wife who cared for her dying husband in dedication goes back spiritually to several generations including those who were immigrants 150 years ago.

In our faith community at Our Lady of Peace, the gardening and planting spiritually has touched our lives through Ray Servis. At St. Victoria, we try to keep up with the example that Madeline Key passed on to us and Ruth Simpson baked for us. Spiritual DNA comes to us from those are still with us like Ray and Madeline.

Who can forget what Fr. MacEleney has done: humorous stories, resilience and perseverance.

Where does your Spiritual DNA come from?

Happy All Saints and All Souls!
